ROMULUS JACKSON, Master Com'r Powell C. C Some Reasons Whv.

As a newspaper man we never did believe much in referring to ogizing for their lack of the world's goods. They may be poorer in purse than other men and they may not be. This is not so bad as soul-poverty. If they are poor there surely is a reason. Yes, there are several reasons, as pointed out by J. Kelly Pool of the Centralia (Mo.) Courier. He reminds us that the editor has to give away so much of what he has to sell-space, and then pay out money to have he gives away. Uncle Sam is one of the worst sort of "spongers." He sends out columns upon columns of "dope" about census, rural delivery, dead letters, forest reservations, immigration and other dryas-dust subjects, requesting that it be printed-but never a cent to pay the freight. The newspaper man s expected to give away space for the public good. Deaths are willingly announced as a news matter, but unduly long obituaries are often contributed that cost the editor a cash outlay to print. Bulletins (padded beyond all reason), cards of thanks, announcements, all these are pushed on the editors of the country papers, and seldom is there anyone willing or able to pay the cost. After he has given, away much of his space he is still expected to make cash donations and subscriptions to everything that comes along, or be pointed, out as a "tightwad" in the community. The public does not seem to understand that space to the newspaper man is what flour is to the miller, or drugs to the gruggist. It is his stock in trade. If the merchant gave away as much of his goods as the newspaper man does, would have to go out of business. So we say: If the newspaper man fails to become a Croesus, there's a reason—several of them.

much needless pain when they delay using Cardui for their female troubles. Cardui has been found to relieve headache, backache, pain in the side and dizziness, arising from deranged organs. It does more than relieve,—if used persistently,—many have written to say that it cured them.

It Will Help You

Mrs. Maxwell Johnson. Tampa. Fla., writes: "Cardui cured me after doctors and everything else had failed. I had been suffering with numb spells ever since I was 16 years old. One day I decided to take Cardui. I have now taken 5 bottles and I can say that it has cured me. I advise all suffering women to give Cardui a long and fair trial."

Mrs. Johnson suffered years. Have you? Do you wish to? But why suffer at all? Take Cardui. Give it a fair trial.
